2001

The Panos Institute exists to stimulate debate on global development issues. Panos works from offices in eleven countries. Since 1986 the Panos AIDS Programme has provided in depth information on the social, psychological and economic causes and consequences of the epidemic in the developing world.

This report was written by Elaine Chase together with Peter Aggleton, Thomas Coram Research Unit, Institute of Education, University of London. Country research was conducted by Virginia Bond (Zambia/ London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine), Shubhada Maitra (India), Alexander Golubov (Ukraine) and Idrissa Ouedraogo (Burkina Faso). Editing and technical assistance was provided by Martin Foreman and Bridget Sleep.

Special thanks must go to all the key informants and focus group participants in each of the research sites for their participation and without whom the research could not have been conducted. In particular thanks to Edith Ndubani who worked as the research assistant in Zambia, as well as to the Zambart Project. Thanks also to research assistants Regina Sawadogo and Pierre Sedego in Burkina Faso. In Ukraine special thanks is given to Dr. Nadezhda Zhilka, Dr. Elena Purik, Dr. Katerina Gamazina, Mrs. Olha Shved, Mr. Sergei Andriyash, Mrs. Elena Sherstyuk, Mr. Vladimir Zhovtyak, Mr. Vladimir Zvarich as well as personnel of Ukrainian Family Planning Association, the All-Ukrainian Network of People Living With HIV/AIDS and UNICEF.
