

Urban-rural disparities in access to improved drinking-water sources are higher in Eastern/Southern Africa than in any other region.

