

Egypt, Morocco and the Syrian Arab Republic had the largest increases in access to improved sanitation facilities in the Middle East/North Africa, 1990–2004.

