

Central Asian countries have some of the largest urban-rural disparities in access to improved drinking-water sources in CEE/CIS.

