

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Running Time • Narrator Name 	1:52 Elizabeth Kiem <table border="1" data-bbox="516 199 1586 2030"> <thead> <tr> <th data-bbox="516 199 1047 241">Script</th> <th data-bbox="1047 199 1586 241">Shotlist</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td data-bbox="516 241 1047 2030"> Malangani Mahama is a man on a mission. He is making his case before the assembly of traditional chiefs, to challenge the beliefs of many of the elders of his village in Niger. The village is one of about ten villages where a number of families refused to immunize their children against polio last year. Mahama, is one of 2,400 religious leaders who have been trained to change these families views, ahead of an extensive new polio campaign to take place in eight West African countries. Health officials have long faced difficulties in conservative areas of South-Eastern Niger, where many parents believe the oral vaccine drops will make them impotent or cause other disabilities. SOUNDBITE (Hausa) of influential man within the assembly, M. Lamine Mato: “In our village, people are convinced that the vaccine renders children deaf or disobedient. It is for this reason that fathers refuse to immunise their children. Women have never been against the vaccination of children.” Thanks to mobilization efforts, it seems that mahama’s village is on the right path ... polio vaccination is already a reality for some of the families. The objective is to reach 4.2 million children under the age of five throughout Niger. SOUNDBITE (Hausa), of Mrs Balki Garba, a mother of four children. “Every time there is a vaccination campaign, women should bring their children for vaccination. Because children are tomorrow’s adults and when a child gets sick, it becomes a problem for the whole family.” </td> <td data-bbox="1047 241 1586 2030"> <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li data-bbox="1112 241 1567 325">1. WS. Malangani Mahama, walking towards the assembly of village elders <li data-bbox="1112 336 1534 399">2. WS Malangani Mahama, seated with village elders <li data-bbox="1112 409 1388 441">3. MS elders listening. <li data-bbox="1112 441 1437 472">4. WS assembly listening. <li data-bbox="1112 472 1356 504">5. MS elder talking <li data-bbox="1112 504 1453 535">6. CU, Malangani Mahama FILE, NIGERIA, APRIL 2007 <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li data-bbox="1112 609 1469 703">7. WS, mobilizer speaking to gathering about polio immunization <li data-bbox="1112 714 1550 766">8. WS, children receiving oral polio vaccine <li data-bbox="1112 777 1534 808">9. CU, child receiving oral vaccine <li data-bbox="1112 808 1534 840">10. MS, registration fro vaccination <li data-bbox="1112 840 1550 871">11. MS, children waiting vaccination 1 7-18 FEBRUARY 2008, ZINDER PROVINCE, NIGER <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li data-bbox="1112 987 1388 1018">12. MS, Lamine Mato. <li data-bbox="1112 1018 1567 1354">13. SOUNDBITE (Hausa), Lamine Mato, village elder: “In our village, people are convinced that the vaccine renders children deaf or disobedient. It is for this reason that fathers refuse to immunise their children. Women have never been against the vaccination of children.” <li data-bbox="1112 1354 1542 1417">14. WS mobilizer speaking to group under a tree <li data-bbox="1112 1428 1542 1459">15. CU, child receiving oral vaccine <li data-bbox="1112 1459 1510 1522">16. CU, baby on his/her mother’s back <li data-bbox="1112 1533 1518 1564">17. CU, baby playing with mother <li data-bbox="1112 1564 1567 1900">18. SOUNDBITE (Hausa), of Mrs Balki Garba, a mother of four children. “Every time there is a vaccination campaign, women should bring their children for vaccination. Because children are tomorrow’s adults and when a child gets sick, it becomes a problem for the whole family.” <li data-bbox="1112 1900 1510 1963">19. WS, social mobiliser entering home <li data-bbox="1112 1963 1510 2026">20. CU social mobiliser, as she is discussing polio campaign </td> </tr> </tbody> </table>	Script	Shotlist	Malangani Mahama is a man on a mission. He is making his case before the assembly of traditional chiefs, to challenge the beliefs of many of the elders of his village in Niger. The village is one of about ten villages where a number of families refused to immunize their children against polio last year. Mahama, is one of 2,400 religious leaders who have been trained to change these families views, ahead of an extensive new polio campaign to take place in eight West African countries. Health officials have long faced difficulties in conservative areas of South-Eastern Niger, where many parents believe the oral vaccine drops will make them impotent or cause other disabilities. SOUNDBITE (Hausa) of influential man within the assembly, M. Lamine Mato: “In our village, people are convinced that the vaccine renders children deaf or disobedient. It is for this reason that fathers refuse to immunise their children. Women have never been against the vaccination of children.” Thanks to mobilization efforts, it seems that mahama’s village is on the right path ... polio vaccination is already a reality for some of the families. The objective is to reach 4.2 million children under the age of five throughout Niger. SOUNDBITE (Hausa), of Mrs Balki Garba, a mother of four children. “Every time there is a vaccination campaign, women should bring their children for vaccination. Because children are tomorrow’s adults and when a child gets sick, it becomes a problem for the whole family.”	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li data-bbox="1112 241 1567 325">1. WS. Malangani Mahama, walking towards the assembly of village elders <li data-bbox="1112 336 1534 399">2. WS Malangani Mahama, seated with village elders <li data-bbox="1112 409 1388 441">3. MS elders listening. <li data-bbox="1112 441 1437 472">4. WS assembly listening. <li data-bbox="1112 472 1356 504">5. MS elder talking <li data-bbox="1112 504 1453 535">6. CU, Malangani Mahama FILE, NIGERIA, APRIL 2007 <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li data-bbox="1112 609 1469 703">7. WS, mobilizer speaking to gathering about polio immunization <li data-bbox="1112 714 1550 766">8. WS, children receiving oral polio vaccine <li data-bbox="1112 777 1534 808">9. CU, child receiving oral vaccine <li data-bbox="1112 808 1534 840">10. MS, registration fro vaccination <li data-bbox="1112 840 1550 871">11. MS, children waiting vaccination 1 7-18 FEBRUARY 2008, ZINDER PROVINCE, NIGER <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li data-bbox="1112 987 1388 1018">12. MS, Lamine Mato. <li data-bbox="1112 1018 1567 1354">13. SOUNDBITE (Hausa), Lamine Mato, village elder: “In our village, people are convinced that the vaccine renders children deaf or disobedient. It is for this reason that fathers refuse to immunise their children. Women have never been against the vaccination of children.” <li data-bbox="1112 1354 1542 1417">14. WS mobilizer speaking to group under a tree <li data-bbox="1112 1428 1542 1459">15. CU, child receiving oral vaccine <li data-bbox="1112 1459 1510 1522">16. CU, baby on his/her mother’s back <li data-bbox="1112 1533 1518 1564">17. CU, baby playing with mother <li data-bbox="1112 1564 1567 1900">18. SOUNDBITE (Hausa), of Mrs Balki Garba, a mother of four children. “Every time there is a vaccination campaign, women should bring their children for vaccination. Because children are tomorrow’s adults and when a child gets sick, it becomes a problem for the whole family.” <li data-bbox="1112 1900 1510 1963">19. WS, social mobiliser entering home <li data-bbox="1112 1963 1510 2026">20. CU social mobiliser, as she is discussing polio campaign
Script	Shotlist
Malangani Mahama is a man on a mission. He is making his case before the assembly of traditional chiefs, to challenge the beliefs of many of the elders of his village in Niger. The village is one of about ten villages where a number of families refused to immunize their children against polio last year. Mahama, is one of 2,400 religious leaders who have been trained to change these families views, ahead of an extensive new polio campaign to take place in eight West African countries. Health officials have long faced difficulties in conservative areas of South-Eastern Niger, where many parents believe the oral vaccine drops will make them impotent or cause other disabilities. SOUNDBITE (Hausa) of influential man within the assembly, M. Lamine Mato: “In our village, people are convinced that the vaccine renders children deaf or disobedient. It is for this reason that fathers refuse to immunise their children. Women have never been against the vaccination of children.” Thanks to mobilization efforts, it seems that mahama’s village is on the right path ... polio vaccination is already a reality for some of the families. The objective is to reach 4.2 million children under the age of five throughout Niger. SOUNDBITE (Hausa), of Mrs Balki Garba, a mother of four children. “Every time there is a vaccination campaign, women should bring their children for vaccination. Because children are tomorrow’s adults and when a child gets sick, it becomes a problem for the whole family.”	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li data-bbox="1112 241 1567 325">1. WS. Malangani Mahama, walking towards the assembly of village elders <li data-bbox="1112 336 1534 399">2. WS Malangani Mahama, seated with village elders <li data-bbox="1112 409 1388 441">3. MS elders listening. <li data-bbox="1112 441 1437 472">4. WS assembly listening. <li data-bbox="1112 472 1356 504">5. MS elder talking <li data-bbox="1112 504 1453 535">6. CU, Malangani Mahama FILE, NIGERIA, APRIL 2007 <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li data-bbox="1112 609 1469 703">7. WS, mobilizer speaking to gathering about polio immunization <li data-bbox="1112 714 1550 766">8. WS, children receiving oral polio vaccine <li data-bbox="1112 777 1534 808">9. CU, child receiving oral vaccine <li data-bbox="1112 808 1534 840">10. MS, registration fro vaccination <li data-bbox="1112 840 1550 871">11. MS, children waiting vaccination 1 7-18 FEBRUARY 2008, ZINDER PROVINCE, NIGER <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li data-bbox="1112 987 1388 1018">12. MS, Lamine Mato. <li data-bbox="1112 1018 1567 1354">13. SOUNDBITE (Hausa), Lamine Mato, village elder: “In our village, people are convinced that the vaccine renders children deaf or disobedient. It is for this reason that fathers refuse to immunise their children. Women have never been against the vaccination of children.” <li data-bbox="1112 1354 1542 1417">14. WS mobilizer speaking to group under a tree <li data-bbox="1112 1428 1542 1459">15. CU, child receiving oral vaccine <li data-bbox="1112 1459 1510 1522">16. CU, baby on his/her mother’s back <li data-bbox="1112 1533 1518 1564">17. CU, baby playing with mother <li data-bbox="1112 1564 1567 1900">18. SOUNDBITE (Hausa), of Mrs Balki Garba, a mother of four children. “Every time there is a vaccination campaign, women should bring their children for vaccination. Because children are tomorrow’s adults and when a child gets sick, it becomes a problem for the whole family.” <li data-bbox="1112 1900 1510 1963">19. WS, social mobiliser entering home <li data-bbox="1112 1963 1510 2026">20. CU social mobiliser, as she is discussing polio campaign

	UNICEF is also supporting more than 3,000 community mobilisers to go door-to-door in these villages – telling parents what to accept from the coming polio campaign and preparing them to accept the vaccination teams into their home.	21. MS women listening to social mobiliser 22. WS, social mobiliser talking in woman’s home 23. CU, baby 24. WS, social mobiliser leaving home
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • International version split track • Running Time 	1:48
	Script Same as above	Shotlist Same as above
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Video news footage 1 • Running Time 	3:30
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Video news footage 2 • Running Time 	3:49
	Shotlist <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. WS of Sahelian landscape in the village of Kadamari, Zinder region. 2. WS of religious leader Malangani Mahama, walking towards the assembly of village elders 3. WS of Mahama, seated with village elders. 4. CU on religious leader Malangani Mahama. 5. MS of elders listening. 6. MS of young men and boys listening. 7. Pan elders talking with religious leader Malangani Mahama. 8. MS of elders listening. 9. CU on a man discussing with religious leader. 10. WS of the assembly listening. 11. CU on the religious leader’s hands. 12. CU on religious leader M. Malangani Mahama. 13. MS of influential man within the assembly, Lamine Mato. 14. SOUNDBITE (Hausa), of influential man within the assembly, M. Lamine Mato “In our village, people are convinced that the vaccine renders children deaf or disobedient. It is for this reason that fathers refuse to immunise their children. Women have never been against the vaccination of children.” 15. WS of women gathered near a water point in the village of Kadamari. 16. WS of Balki Garba, a mother of four children. 17. MS of Balki Garba, a mother of four children. 18. WS of Balki Garba,
	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. SOUNDBITE (Hausa), Balki Garba, a mother of four children. “Every time there is a vaccination campaign, women should bring their children for vaccination. Because children are tomorrow’s adults and when a child gets sick, it becomes a problem for the whole family.”

2. Zoom out on child sitting on his/her mother's lap.
 3. CU on a baby on his/her mother's back.
 4. SOUNDBITE (French) of Mrs Yahaya Aïbra, Communication for Development officer, Regional Direction for Health, Zinder region:
"Religious leaders are always more listened to than other people because they are influential persons."
 5. WS of a social mobiliser, walking in Zinder.
 6. WS of a social mobiliser, entering home.
 7. CU on social mobiliser's face as she is discussing with woman.
 8. WS of woman listening.
 9. CU on woman listening.
 10. MS of woman listening (from back).
 11. MS of woman and social mobiliser.
 12. CU on social mobiliser's face.
 13. CU on wife's child.
 14. WS of a social mobiliser, leaving the home.
 15. WS of a social mobiliser, a home and entering another home.
 16. WS of village of Ian Kouble, in the district of Magaria.
 17. MS of village of Ian Kouble, in the district of Magaria.
 18. WS of a male social mobiliser talking to men in the village of Ian Kouble.
 19. CU on the male social mobiliser talking to men in the village of Ian Kouble.
 20. MS of men listening.
 21. CU on a man listening
- FILE, NIGERIA, APRIL 2007
22. WS, mobilizer speaking to gathering about polio immunization
 23. WS, children receiving oral polio vaccine
 24. CU, child receiving oral vaccine
 25. MS, registration fro vaccination
 26. MS, children waiting vaccination

UNICEF PSA

- Note to NewsMarket:
Always annotate PSAs running time as TRT: 30 seconds

UNICEF Interview Running Time

- Name of person being interviewed
- Name of person's organization
- Person's title

Xxx

Xxx

Xxx

xxx

Script