The United Nations Country Team in Ukraine supports the national effort led by the Government of Ukraine to ensure human rights and improve the lives of all people in Ukraine, especially the most excluded and vulnerable.

The United Nations Country Team shall work closely with the Government and stakeholders at all levels, including development partners, civil society, the private sector and the public, to support the reform process, the achievement of international standards, European integration, the Millennium Development Goals, and Ukraine’s commitments to the objectives of international conventions and summits.

To accelerate this process, United Nations programming will focus on Ukraine’s progress toward: (1) institutional reforms that enhance outreach to enable all people to fulfil their human rights; (2) civil society empowerment to enable all people to access services and enjoy their rights; (3) health care and health services with a special focus on raising quality and accessibility, and (4) prosperity through balanced development and entrepreneurship.

The United Nations Country Team shall ensure the transparent and accountable use of all resources made available to us for these purposes.

The collective goal of the United Nations Country Team is to assist the Government of Ukraine and its citizens in their quest for a future that offers the hope and reality of a better life for all.

Completed in Kyiv on this day, the [date] of April 2005, in two original copies in English.
Introduction

Purpose
To support the efforts needed to become a modern, democratic and European state, the United Nations Country Team (UNCT), in close cooperation with the Government of Ukraine, non-resident UN Agencies, civil society stakeholders, academics and the international community, has prepared a United Nations Development Assistance Framework (UNDAF) for Ukraine. The UNDAF establishes a common strategic framework for the United Nations system in Ukraine over the period 2006-2010 and is a collective, coherent and integrated response by the United Nations system, both to the national priorities set out in the government’s action programme ‘Toward the People’ endorsed by Ukraine’s legislative body, the Verkhovna Rada, on 4 February 2005, and to the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), the commitments, goals and targets of the Millennium Declaration, and international conferences, conventions and human rights instruments of the UN system.

The UNDAF applies a human rights approach to development issues, providing a greater coherence among programmes, along with increased opportunities for joint initiatives that utilize the UN’s comparative advantages. The UNDAF translates the key priorities identified in the Common Country Assessment (CCA) for Ukraine, completed in October 2004 and reinforced by the government’s action programme, into a common operational framework for development activities. Individual UN Agencies, funds and programmes will formulate their Country Programme Documents and Annual Work-plans for the five-year period 2006-2010 in a manner which supports and reinforces this UNDAF.

Process
- Common Country Assessment
In response to the Secretary-General’s call for the United Nations to articulate an all-encompassing, holistic and coherent vision and strategy for a unified approach toward common development goals at the country level, the agencies of the United Nations system in Ukraine conducted their second CCA from April to October 2004. Ukraine’s CCA process began with the establishment of a CCA/UNDAF Steering Committee, chaired by the UN Resident Coordinator and including the representatives of every UN agency. The Steering Committee adopted the Ukraine-Millennium Development Goals and national development plans and priorities as point of departure. The committee also established seven Theme Groups, with the participation and involvement of various stakeholders and partners. These Theme Groups analyzed the most important responses to development challenges and identified the root causes of these challenges in the areas of poverty, health, education, gender, governance and the rule of law, HIV/AIDS and the environment. Using a human rights-based approach, the Theme Groups then identified the national capacities of those responsible for ensuring the realization of human rights in these areas, as well as the capacity of individuals to claim them, and incorporated all of this information and analysis into the CCA.

The CCA produced identified several key challenges facing Ukraine in its advancement of human development. Shortfalls in the realization of economic, cultural and social rights over the last decade have made citizens increasingly vulnerable to poverty. Further, inadequate political and civil rights have seriously depleted institutions of their human and financial resources. Utilizing the CCA, the UNCT identified four potential areas of cooperation, taking into account (1) the common root causes of major development challenges; (2) priority needs and capacities of state bodies and vulnerable groups to meet their commitments; (3) goals and targets of the MDGs, Millennium Declaration and UN human rights instruments; and (4) the comparative advantages of UN Agencies in human development and human rights.

The following four proposed areas of cooperation identified in the CCA also provided guidance in the process of UNDAF development:

1. improvement of vital health indicators;
2. promotion of human rights and gender equality;
3. furtherance of inclusive prosperity;
4. assistance in institutional reform and capacity building for democratic governance.
- UNDAF Preparation

The CCF/UNDAF Steering Committee – UN Country Team had initially planned to launch the UNDAF process upon the finalization of the CCA. However, the Committee later decided to postpone the UNDAF process until the completion of the presidential election cycle and the subsequent adoption of a new government programme.

As a result of the election of a new president and the appointment of the new Cabinet of Ministers, there has been a considerable shift in Ukraine’s national strategic priorities in the period between the completion of the CCA (October 2004) and the initial development of the UNDAF (February 2005). Despite the previous government’s commitment to development, the new government action programme ‘Toward the People’ provides a more favourable environment for progress in human development, as it supports new approaches to address key challenges and reaffirms the commitment of the State to support the realization of all human rights. The aim of the programme is to secure equality, individual rights and fundamental freedoms for all and to elevate social, economic, and democratic life to a level consistent with European standards.

In order to reflect these new priorities in the UNDAF process, UN Agencies, government counterparts, and representatives of civil society, academia, foreign embassies, and the donor community met at the UNDAF prioritization retreat (17-18 February 2005). The meeting synthesized the main priorities of the UN system for 2006-2010 in the form of an UNDAF, thus reinforcing the priorities of the new government. During the meeting, participants reviewed the new government action programme, the Ukraine Millennium Development Goals, and the areas of cooperation proposed in the CCA. In order to identify priority areas for the UNDAF, participants also considered the technical expertise and accumulated experience of UN Agencies, particularly in light of the UN’s comparative advantage in human development and human rights. As a result, participants reached common agreement on four priority areas for this UNDAF. In each of these four priority areas, UN Agencies support the State and the people of Ukraine to achieve national priorities and goals, and to meet the commitments, goals and targets of the MDGs, Millennium Declaration and UN human rights instruments. The four UNDAF priority areas are:

1. institutional reforms that enhance outreach, to enable all people to fulfil their human rights;
2. civil society empowerment to enable all people to access services and enjoy their rights;
3. health care and health services with a special focus on raising quality and accessibility;
4. prosperity against poverty, reducing poverty through effectively targeted development and entrepreneurship.

Based on these four priority areas, the UN Inter-agency Task Force on Programme Coordination prepared drafts of the UNDAF incorporating all the objectives and recommendations discussed in the meeting. The Office of the UN Resident Coordinator facilitated this process. Governmental, non-governmental, and other international stakeholders reviewed and strengthened the initial draft of the UNDAF, and enhanced the collective input and ownership of the UNDAF beyond the UN system in a follow-up UNDAF workshop held on 28 February 2005.

On 8 April 2005, a Joint Strategy Meeting was held in which all stakeholders and partners conducted a detailed review of the second draft UNDAF and provided their final comments and suggestions to improve the document. Participants discussed and comprehensively planned the next steps toward UNDAF implementation, including creation of the UNDAF oversight, coordination, and monitoring and evaluation mechanisms. The Government of Ukraine and UNCT then engaged in constant, close consultation until both parties fully agreed upon the final UNDAF document.

Results

The UN system in Ukraine has selected the national priorities and goals, and the four UNDAF Outcomes presented in Annex I (UNDAF Result Matrix), as the focus of its contribution to development in Ukraine for the period 2006-2010. The UNDAF uses a results-based management approach to link national goals and the government’s priorities with specific UNDAF outcomes in each of the four UNDAF priority areas. Each UNDAF priority area also includes a set of key Country Programme Outcomes. Measurable progress toward these specific Country Programme Outcomes is required in order to achieve the overall UNDAF objective. The specific country programme outcomes within each UNDAF objective are often the shared results of two or more UN Agencies, working in collaboration with the government and other key stakeholders. There are a series of Country Programme Outputs within each Country Programme Outcomes. These elaborate concrete and measurable products, services, skills, and/or abilities will be delivered by specific UN Agencies working in partnership with identified organizations and utilizing resources mobilized to deliver specific outputs.

Priority Assistance Areas, expected UNDAF Outcomes, and Country Programme Outcomes

Assistance area 1: Institutional reforms that enhance outreach, to enable all people to fulfil their human rights.

UNDAF outcome by the end of the programme cycle:
Government institutions at national and local levels function on a transparent, accountable and participatory basis that ensures the human rights of all people in Ukraine.

Country Programme Outcomes:
1. Human rights based, gender sensitive and participatory policies, legislation, regulations and practices are in place at the national level.
2. National capacities strengthened to promote, protect and monitor human rights through greater accountability of public institutions.

Assistance area 2: Civil society empowerment to enable all people to access services and enjoy their rights

UNDAF outcome by the end of the programme cycle:
All individuals in Ukraine are empowered to claim and enjoy their rights consistent with international standards through the strengthening of civil society, with a focus on protection of women and other disadvantaged groups.

Country Programme Outcomes:
1. Civil society organizations strengthened and supported to promote, protect and advocate for all human rights of people and to participate in decision-making processes, with an emphasis on vulnerable groups.
2. Key civil society partners strengthened to respond to HIV/AIDS-related discrimination.

Assistance area 3: Health care and health services with a special focus on raising quality and accessibility

UNDAF outcome by the end of the programme cycle:
By 2010, increased equitable access to quality medical assistance and health services with emphases on HIV/AIDS, tuberculosis and mother & child health that ensures the right of people in Ukraine to enjoy the highest attainable standards in the area of health.

Country Programme Outcomes:
1. Strengthened national response with a gender-based approach to HIV/AIDS, tuberculosis and mother and child health needs, especially for vulnerable groups, ensuring the right to prevention, treatment and control of diseases, consistent with international standards.
2. Increased access to and use of quality treatment and medical services by mothers and children, people affected by HIV/AIDS and tuberculosis, youth and vulnerable populations that ensures their right to quality health services.
Assistance area 4: Prosperity against poverty, reducing poverty through balanced development and entrepreneurship

UNDAF outcome by the end of the programme cycle:
Poverty reduced by 50% through equitable, area-based economic growth and targeted provision of inclusive social services.

Country Programme Outcomes:
1. Pro-poor frameworks and strategies for sustainable economic development adopted and extended to rural and economically- and socially-disadvantaged areas, communities and groups, in a manner consistent with safeguarding these groups’ political, civil, economic, social and cultural rights.
2. Strengthened system for provision of social services and assistance functioning on an equitable and inclusive basis.

Resource mobilization

In order to achieve the results planned for in this UNDAF, UN Agencies will work in close coordination with the Government of Ukraine, civil society and other multi-lateral and bi-lateral donors. In each of the four assistance areas implemented under the auspices of this UNDAF, United Nations Agencies have committed to mobilizing the resources required in order to achieve specific outputs. This UNDAF specifies these resource mobilization targets as financial resources denominated in United States dollars. UN Agencies will each contribute a substantial portion of the funding required for the activities under these outputs, based on core funding to these agencies available through their five-year country programmes and/or annual work-plans. In order for the UNDAF results to achieve national ownership and long-term sustainability, a significant portion of the total resources will be mobilized through joint programming with the Government of Ukraine. The Government of Ukraine, depending on its financial capacity, will support activities on implementation of this UNDAF through statutory funding from the state budget at national and local levels.

The United Nations will also continue to develop partnerships with bi-lateral and multi-lateral donors and the private sector – which will also be encouraged to commit funding for development assistance in these UNDAF priority areas. A coordinated approach to resource mobilization is necessary to ensure the Government of Ukraine and key donor agencies contribute the resources required to achieve the national priorities and goals as specified in this UNDAF, and meet the commitments, goals and targets of MDGs, Millennium Declaration and UN human rights instruments. The UN agencies will also assist the Government of Ukraine in its efforts to plan, allocate and manage the resources available for the realization of four UNDAF outcomes on a more efficient basis, thus supporting effective management and coordination, and also long-term national ownership and sustainability.

The total resource mobilization estimate for this UNDAF, covering the period of 2006-2010, is two hundred thirty-nine million five hundred sixty thousand United States Dollars (US$239,560,000). (This figure does not include World Bank loans to Government of Ukraine reflected in Annex I (Result Matrix). The total resource mobilization targets for each of the four assistance areas are:

1 The UN system supports strongly the Government’s efforts to strengthen transparent and participatory mechanisms for harmonizing and aligning the development assistance and technical cooperation, around national policies and strategies, as set in the Rome Declaration on Harmonization (February 2003) as well as in the Paris Declaration on Aid Effectiveness (March 2005). Under the leadership of Government of Ukraine, the UN supports and will actively cooperate and assist in the development and implementation of sector-wide approaches and priorities as they are developed.
Implementation

The UNDAF will ensure consistency between its own programmatic framework and the country programmes and annual work-plans of individual UN Agencies. The UNCT, which is led by the UN Resident Coordinator and includes the heads of UN Agencies in Ukraine, will oversee the ongoing implementation of the UNDAF.

The UNCT has adopted an approach to the UNDAF process that reflects the following UN principles of a human rights-based approach to programming:

1. all programmes of development co-operation, policies, and technical assistance further the concepts of human rights as laid down in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR) and other international human rights instruments;
2. human rights standards contained in, and principles derived from, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and other international human rights instruments guide all development cooperation and programming in all sectors and in all phases of the programming process;
3. development cooperation contributes to the development of the capacities of the country to meet its obligations and of the people to claim their rights.

Human rights principles will continue to guide all programming in all phases of the UNDAF process, including assessment and analysis, programme planning and design (including the establishment of goals, objectives and strategies), implementation, monitoring and evaluation.

The key human rights principles guiding the UNDAF process include:

Universality and Inalienability - Human rights are universal and inalienable. All people everywhere in the world are entitled to them – the person in whom they inhere cannot voluntarily give them up, and others have no right to take them away. Article One of the UDHR states, “All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights”.

Indivisibility - Human rights are indivisible. Whether of a civil, cultural, economic, political or social nature, they are all inherent to the dignity of every person. Consequently, all rights enjoy equal status, and cannot be ranked hierarchically.

Inter-dependence and Inter-relatedness - The realization of one right often depends, wholly or in part, upon the realization of others, regardless the nature of that right.

Equality and Non-discrimination - All individuals are equal as human beings by virtue of the inherent dignity of each person. Everyone is entitled to his or her human rights without discrimination of any kind (such as race, colour, sex, ethnicity, age, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, disability, property, birth or other status as elaborated by human rights treaty bodies).

Participation and Inclusion - Every person and all peoples are entitled to active, free and meaningful participation in, contribution to, and enjoyment of civil, economic, social, cultural and political development in which human rights and fundamental freedoms are realized.

Accountability and Rule of Law - States and other duty-bearers are answerable for the observance of human rights. In this regard, they are compelled to comply with the legal norms and standards enshrined in human rights instruments. When they fail to do so, aggrieved rights-holders are entitled to appropriate redress before a competent court or other adjudicator in accordance with the rules and procedures provided by law.

Four programming modalities used by the UNCT for the UNDAF implementation process

Analysis:
Evidence-based analysis of key issues informs all phases of strategic planning, development and implementation of programmes and projects. The background to such analysis is the Common Country
Assessment conducted by the United Nations in Ukraine in 2004. UN Agencies will commission and utilize additional analyses on a regular basis to identify and update the human rights claims of Ukrainian citizens and the corresponding human rights obligations of State of Ukraine, as well as the immediate, underlying, and structural causes of the non-realization of rights. These analyses may be used to ensure that the targets and focus of programmes are effectively targeted and focused to achieve projected results. Key stakeholders from the Government of Ukraine, civil society, and multi-lateral and bi-lateral donors will review the results of any research or analysis in order to inform and enlighten the process of policymaking and to enhance the capacity of national partners to build consensus on key priorities.

Partnerships:

United Nations Agencies will work in close consultation with and under the guidance of the Government of Ukraine. Programmes and projects under this UNDAF will be implemented among and in close partnership with key stakeholders, which include but are not limited to the Government, UN Agencies, multi-lateral and bi-lateral agencies, NGOs and civil society organizations (especially those representing vulnerable groups and communities), scientific institutions and, where appropriate, the private sector. This cooperative approach to project/programme implementation and review will strengthen mechanisms for input, feedback and social contracting.

Coordination:

In order to achieve the UNDAF outcomes by 2010, the UN Agencies and Government of Ukraine will work together to prepare, implement, monitor and evaluate the UN system activities. Moreover, the UN agencies will develop and sustain strong partnerships with all stakeholders to plan, implement and review UN system programmes and projects in order to avoid duplication, enhance synergy, mobilize resources effectively, and multiply the impact of UNDAF programmes and projects. The UN recognizes the Government’s lead role in coordinating these efforts through active leadership and participation in the UNDAF Steering Committee, Monitoring Unit, and Thematic and Technical Working Groups.

Management:

UN Agencies will manage all programmes and projects in a transparent and participatory manner. International standards in recruitment, procurement and financial management will be followed to ensure quality management processes and the efficient use of resources. Wherever possible, Ukrainian-based consultants, companies, commodities, and other local inputs will be utilized, in order to strengthen the capacity of the national authorities and civil society to make optimal use of their own domestic resources.

Monitoring and Evaluation

To ensure that programmes and projects are achieving the desired results, a new unified system monitoring and evaluation system will be used to inform and assess the implementation of this UNDAF. This system will address the following objectives:

1. establishment of ongoing mechanisms guided by human rights standards and principles to monitor and evaluate UNDAF programme processes and outcomes, thereby enabling UN Agencies and key stakeholders to assess the strengths and weaknesses of their programmes and projects;
2. informed decision making regarding operations management, with a focus on policies and institutions that need to be improved or developed during the implementation of the UNDAF, and;
3. strengthening the capacities of partners responsible for national monitoring and evaluation in key areas.

The indicators identified to monitor the implementation of this UNDAF will be consistent with the Ukrainian MDG indicators and other national development goals, and the goals and targets of international conferences, conventions and human rights instruments of the UN system, and will be adjusted in parallel with them. The UNDAF Monitoring Unit will develop the Monitoring and Evaluation indicators upon the signature of this UNDAF. Moreover, the Monitoring and Evaluation Plan will be developed for the approval of UNDAF Steering Committee by December 2005. UN Agencies will provide additional support and technical assistance to enhance the capacity of the key governmental agencies which will collect and analyze data for the indicators in this UNDAF.
UNDAF Steering Committee:
A high-level UNDAF Steering Committee will be established which will include senior representatives from the government, the heads of UN Agencies, and other stakeholders and partners. The Steering Committee will operate in accordance with the Common Monitoring and Evaluation Plan approved by UN Agencies and partners at the beginning of UNDAF cycle and updated on an annual basis. The Steering Committee will hold at least two meetings annually to review progress toward achievement of the UNDAF objectives, and will produce an annual progress report focusing on the strategies, implementation modalities and coordination mechanisms required to reinforce achievement of UNDAF objectives in all four areas of cooperation.

UNDAF Monitoring Unit:
To ensure the effective operation of the monitoring and evaluation system, an UNDAF Monitoring Unit will be established to support the UNDAF Steering Committee. The Unit will be responsible for overall management of the monitoring and evaluation system, including:

1. preparation of the UNDAF monitoring and evaluation indicators, monitoring and evaluation plan and annual plan updates;
2. liaising with government monitoring and evaluation and statistical agencies to collect data and analyse indicators;
3. facilitation of the UN Theme Group, Technical Working Group, and the UNDAF Steering Committee meetings;
4. arrangement of independent surveys to analyse and evaluate UNDAF programmes and projects;
5. preparation of the Joint Annual Review, Joint Mid-Term Review and Joint Final Review;
6. organization of training courses, seminars and workshops on monitoring and evaluation for government counterparts, local communities and civil society organisations.

Theme Groups:
One Theme Groups will be established to address each of the four assistance areas, including Institutional Reform, Civil Society Empowerment, Health Care and Services, and Prosperity. In addition, the existing Theme Group on HIV/AIDS will be expanded to monitor progress on HIV/AIDS across the four UNDAF areas. Representatives of the government and UN Agencies will co-chair these groups, which will include representatives from other multilateral and bilateral agencies, civil society organizations and other partners and stakeholders. These Theme Groups will hold meetings at least once every two months to exchange information, review the status of UN programme and project implementation, and discuss new developments. The UNDAF Monitoring Unit is responsible for taking minutes of these meetings and submitting them to the UNDAF Steering Committee.

Annual Reviews:
The UNDAF Monitoring Unit will prepare an Annual UNDAF Review, based on the bi-annual reports of the four Thematic Groups and the annual report of the Steering Committee. The UN Resident Coordinator will present the Annual UNDAF Review to the Government of Ukraine, agency headquarters and other stakeholders, and will include it in the Annual Report of the UNCT.

Mid-term Review:
The Steering Committee will conduct mid-term review of the UNDAF in 2008. The mid-term review will provide UNDAF stakeholders with an opportunity to update strategies and adjust implementation modalities to ensure that UN programmes and projects remain focused on national priorities and the progressive achievement of MDGs. The mid-term review will be coordinated with the mid-term country programme evaluations conducted by UNDP, UNICEF and UNFPA.

Final Review:
The Steering Committee will also conduct a final review of the UNDAF in 2010. The final review will assess the progress made toward achieving UNDAF objectives in each of the four areas of cooperation, based on feedback from UNDAF partners and beneficiaries as well as an independent evaluation, if required. The final review will also describe obstacles that have impeded the achievement of specific outcomes.
will also identify any best practices that emerge from the UNDAF process for broader dissemination in Ukraine and throughout the UN Development Group network.

Key Risks and Assumptions:
The monitoring and evaluation system will pay special attention to key risks and assumptions that could endanger the achievement of UNDAF objectives. These include:

1. areas of priority identified in the UNDAF process that overlap only partially with priorities identified in the action programme adopted by the new Government of Ukraine;
2. a lack of prior commitment by the Government to implement the strategic programmes supported by the UNDAF, particularly in the area of cost-sharing, oversight, and monitoring and evaluation;
3. the challenge of coordinating approaches to resource mobilization in such a way that the Government and UNDAF do not compete with each other for necessary resources, but rather reinforce and compliment each other;
4. a lack of prior commitment from multi-lateral and bi-lateral donors to support UNDAF objectives;
5. a lack of capacities and competencies of local partners and counterparts to implement planned activities supporting the achievement of UNDAF outcomes;
6. a limited scope to ensure the viability and sustainability of programmes implemented through the UNDAF in the long term;
7. a lack of country presence of key non-resident UN Agencies whose contributions to the UNDAF are required.
