General comments
Comments on specific aspects of the country programme document	(Delegations providing comments may wish to include details, such as the page number, paragraph number, or page of the annexed results and resources framework. <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. South-South Cooperation. We would like to see an emphasis on UNICEF (and all relevant UN agencies in China) seeking to inform and influence China's international development cooperation to improve its effectiveness, increase its development impact, and ensure that it meets international norms and standards (on environmental protection, social aspects, transparency and debt sustainability).2. Innovative financing. The CPD states that UNICEF will work on innovative financing, but it is unclear what this means. There is reference to 'Innovative financing investment' [para 21(e)], and assisting financial institutions and the private sector to develop viable business models and financial instruments (to make more child-friendly investments) [para 46]. What is UNICEF planning in these areas?

	3. Graduation. Despite noting China’s considerable developmental gains, there is no reference to when China might be expected to graduate from receiving UN funding. Is there a plan to work towards this? 4. Vulnerable Groups. A stated programme priority is addressing the unrealized rights of vulnerable groups [para 20], so it is surprising that there is no reference in this CPD to ethnic or religious minorities despite their particular vulnerability.
