General comments	The UNICEF CPD of Georgia is addressing a broad spectrum of programme areas and sets ambitious targets to be achieved until 2025. UNICEF Georgia has the capacities to meet these ambitious targets. UNICEF Georgia plays the most important role for social concerns of children and adolescents. With regards to the promotion of TVET, it would be useful to introduce mandatory apprenticeships in school curricula already. This could lead to more transparent information for school children about the possibilities after school in order to enable a smooth move of graduates into after-school-training to lower the number of unemployed amongst young people.
Comments on specific aspects of the country programme document  p.13, key progress indicators	(Delegations providing comments may wish to include details, such as the page number, paragraph number, or page of the annexed results and resources framework.  With regard to the KPI “percentage of public schools with safe environment and established positive discipline”, we would welcome a definition for “save environment” and “positive discipline” to demonstrate the measurability of the indicator.
