

Ambassador Audra Plepytė is the Permanent Representative of Lithuania to the United Nations since 2017.

Prior to her appointment to the United Nations, Ms. Plepytė served as Director of the European Union Department of her country's Ministry for Foreign Affairs from 2014 to 2017. She was Ambassador to Spain, Argentina and the United Nations World Tourism Organization between 2010 and 2014, and Director of the Ministry's Personnel Department from 2009 to 2010.

Ms. Plepytė's other assignments within the Ministry included Head of the International Missions and Conflict Prevention Division (2008-2009), Deputy Representative to the Political and Security Committee within Lithuania's Permanent Representation to the European Union in Brussels (2004-2008) and Head of the Human Rights and Non-Governmental Organizations Division (2003-2004).

Her foreign service included postings as Deputy Permanent Representative, previously Counsellor, at the United Nations in New York (1999-2002), Counsellor at Lithuania's Embassy to the United States (February 1999 to July 1999), Head of the Foreign Ministry's Northern European Division (1989-1999) and Advisor to the CBSS Commissioner for Democratic Institutions and Human Rights (1997-1998).

Ms. Plepytė graduated International Relationship at the Vilnius University, Diplomatic studies at the Oxford University and received a master's degree in Philosophy at Vilnius University.