60 Years of UNICEF Making a Difference

Being a UNICEF Ambassador, I have had the opportunity to meet children from all walks of life all over the Philippines. Most of them have been children in need. I've met school children in Mountain Province mulling over the threat of tribal war. I've met young children jailed for the most minor offences. I've met children who lost their homes and families because of natural disaster. I've heard the most heart-breaking stories. But with children, one always feels hope. Children are resilient, open to change, and they have time going for them. I feel it's a big achievement if my songs or my messages inspire children to aspire for better lives. Once they have a dream, children can accomplish big things.

Join me and UNICEF in bringing hope to children in the Philippines – particularly those for whom even dreaming and aspiring have become luxuries. One way you can help is by purchasing UNICEF cards and gifts. They are beautiful and they go a long way to make a difference in the lives of children.

Thank you!

It also contributed to the expansion of the Child-Friendly School System (CFSS) network from over 4,000 schools to over 5,000 schools in the CPC during the same period.

Teachers and school heads of CFSS schools are trained on effective teaching-learning approaches as well as on gender-fair, protective and health-promoting practices, the school children's right and encouraged to support school improvements.

CFSS schools tend to fare better in terms of enhancing children's learning outcomes because the school and community become more nurturing of their education and development.

Early Childhood and Basic Education

The greeting cards income helped improve the access to ECCD services by increasing the number of communities served from 6,974 in 2004 to 7,133 in 2005 in the CPC areas. UNICEF supported the training of ECCD workers, provision of learning materials and orientation of parents on good parenting.

How your money is spent

UNICEF's activities have a truly global impact which stretches far beyond the 155 countries and territories. If it wasn't for people like you supporting us, we couldn't have made so many lasting changes in the lives of children. By buying UNICEF cards and gifts you support this vital work. Thank you.

Dear Friends,

Christmas is a time for giving. What better way to give than with the gifts that keep on giving?

Your friends and family will always appreciate receiving UNICEF cards and gifts. They are unique and produced with the highest quality standards in mind.

The children in the Philippines will also appreciate your purchase of UNICEF cards and gifts. In 2005 alone, the sale of UNICEF items raised ₱2.8 million to support their education. With this amount, UNICEF helped add variety and color to the learning materials for the day care centres and elementary schools, from the remote and disadvantaged communities of Aurora, Camarines Norte, Eastern Samar, Maguindanao and Mt. Province, to the densely populated urban poor communities of Manila and Cebu cities.

We also supported the training of day care workers, teachers and principals about child-friendly teaching-learning approaches and school supervision. Our patrons bought gifts for family and friends; UNICEF turned their purchases into gifts for children. And the children are enjoying and benefiting from these gifts, to this day!

They are getting a good start in life through early childhood care and positive learning experiences in elementary school – thus laying the foundation for a lifelong love of learning, appropriate socialization and cognitive development.

Join us in this lifelong gift-giving. Send UNICEF cards and gifts this Christmas. UNICEF items are indeed the gifts that keep on giving.

Have a blessed Christmas.

Yours sincerely,
