Institutional Consultancy: Study of Knowledge, Attitudes and Practices (KAP) on Ebola Virus Disease (EVD) in Rwanda.

1 Background

Since August 2018, the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC) has been facing a large-scale epidemic of Ebola Virus Disease (EVD) in the eastern provinces of North Kivu and Ituri, with importation to Goma and South Kivu provinces. Since the start of the outbreak in August 2018, there have been 3,303 EVD cases reported and 2,199 people have died (World Health Organization (WHO), 26 November 2019). Around 28 per cent of cases are children, a larger proportion than reported in previous outbreaks of Ebola. On 17 July 2019, WHO declared the Ebola outbreak in North Eastern DRC a Public Health Emergency of International Concern.

As one of the most densely populated countries in Africa, and with high-quality transport infrastructure, Rwanda is at high-risk of rapid spread of EVD. In 2018, the Government of Rwanda (GoR) developed an Ebola preparedness plan and activated mechanisms to minimize the risk of importation. In partnership with UNICEF, the World Health Organization, the Ministry of Health’s Rwanda Biomedical Center conducted a rapid Knowledge, Attitudes and Practices (KAP) assessment to gauge the level of public awareness about Ebola Virus Disease, as well as the prevailing attitudes and practices related to the disease. The interventions under the Risk Communication and Community Engagement (RC&CE) pillar of the National Contingency Plan have been largely informed by the results of this study.

Although Rwanda remains free of Ebola, it is still at risk of cross-border spread as the country borders with DRC, Uganda, Burundi and Tanzania. The protracted emergency preparedness effort requires up-to-date understanding of the prevailing levels of knowledge, perceptions of risk, attitudes and practices among parents, caregivers, health workers, teachers, ECD caregivers, children and key influencers (including community and religious leaders) with regards to EVD.

2 Rationale and Justification

The proposed KAP study will assess knowledge, attitudes and practices in relation to preventing EVD and allow for better understanding of its barriers and drivers, building on an earlier rapid assessment (2018). The findings of this study will inform/help to evaluate the progress since the rapid KAP and identify where Rwanda needs to adjust the RC&CE interventions of the National Contingency Plan going forward.

Designing and conducting the KAP study requires a highly qualified institutional consultancy. Therefore, UNICEF plans to contract an experienced and competent research institution to undertake this exercise.

3 Purpose, objectives and expected results

The overall goal of this KAP study is to assess knowledge, attitudes and practices in relation to preventing EVD and to better understand corresponding health-related behaviours; and drivers and barriers for risk communication. Important gender dimensions and social norms will be considered during this exercise.

The specific objectives of the study are to:

- Establish current levels of knowledge, perceptions of risk, attitudes and practices among parents and caregivers (persons from different backgrounds who might include cross border traders, students, drivers of the public transport, security bodies, immigration and airport staff among others), health workers, teachers, ECD caregivers, adolescents and key influencers (including community and religious leaders) on EVD;

- Establish whether people know other consequences of Ebola apart from death, such as: the importance of safe burials, separation and isolation of the infected and affected through contact and importance of contact tracing;

- Identify current myths, beliefs about EVD as well as barriers and drivers of communication;

- Identify cultural and social norms and traditions, in particular gender-related, influencing or impacting health-seeking behaviours as well as family and community resilience mechanisms to prevent an EVD outbreak;

- Identify potential discriminatory attitudes towards those with EVD among parents, caregivers, service providers and key influencers;

- Identify underlying causes for potential discriminatory attitudes;

- Conduct a communication analysis in the context of disease outbreaks to establish: target audiences, current behaviours, barriers to achieving desired behaviours, behavioural objectives, behaviour change mass, interpersonal, group communication and information preferences (channels, approaches, media, interventions etc.);

- Identify credible sources of information for participant groups;

- Identify what is considered as the other significant source of information (second opinion) that facilitates respondents to make decisions;

- Identify economic and social power dynamics in communities and decision-making processes in families and communities related to disease outbreaks and EVD in particular;

- Identify possible entry points for communication including ideas for adjusting EVD-related messaging;

- Identify approaches and authentic/credible sources of information for various participant/respondent groups

- Assess health workers, including community health workers (CHWs) knowledge and practice in communicating key messages on EVD to families, parents and caregivers;

- Assess community and religious leaders’ knowledge and attitudes about EVD and how to prevent EVD and their engagement and influence in EVD prevention and preparedness behaviours;

- Identify most effective communication channels that have been used so far;
- Identify the ways rumours around EVD emerge and get disseminated.

Key elements of the study:

The output of the study is a comprehensive report, including the following elements:

1. Desk (literature) review (with a gender analysis component) of existing policy and programme documents as well as available research documents and EVD KAP studies conducted in Rwanda and in countries with comparable context.

2. Data collection and analysis with a gender lens:
   a. Refine the research methodology based on consultations with the Ministry of Health and UNICEF and other relevant stakeholders as advised by UNICEF;
   b. Prepare an inception report including research questions and draft research instruments;
   c. Prepare, translate into Kinyarwanda (and possibly French) and pre-test the research instruments;
   d. Conduct training of enumerators and data collectors;
   e. Conduct field research as per proposed and agreed methodology and timeline;
   f. Data-cleaning and analysis of the collected data;
   g. Prepare draft KAP study report and accompanying presentation in PowerPoint with preliminary findings and share with UNICEF to facilitate the review and feedback by all relevant stakeholders. The report should include recommendations on adjusting the communication approaches/messages based on the findings;
   h. Finalize full KAP study report based on feedback from all relevant stakeholders and share the final version and accompanying presentation in PowerPoint with UNICEF;
   i. Provide data-sets.

Methodology and data sources:

The study methodology consists of:

1. Review of the secondary data, which will be derived from the desk review of existing policy and programme documents, as well as existing quantitative and qualitative data (the package of relevant documents will be provided at the inception stage) to both inform the study design and provide additional contextual analysis.

2. Generation of primary data using a mix of quantitative (household core survey) and qualitative methods. The selected institution is expected to propose a detailed methodology for both components of the study.

Household survey

The caregiver survey is intended to provide quantitative measures of caregiver's knowledge, risk perception, attitudes and practices and will serve as a basis for analysis of changes over time as well as geographic differences across and within the provinces. The sample size should be maximum 1,000 households. The survey should be concise and take no longer than 15 minutes to administer.

In addition to background characteristics of the main respondent, including disability status, the questionnaire should also include the listing of all members and their characteristics (age, sex, marital status, disability status and educational attainment).

Important is to determine caregivers’ mass-media consumption, preferred sources of information on EVD preparedness, prevention and control. Eligible respondents will include parents of children 0-18 years old (50 per cent mothers and 50 per cent fathers).

Qualitative methods

The qualitative methods should target the following respondents:

a. Parents/caregivers
b. Community health workers;
c. Community and religious leaders;
d. Teachers;
e. ECD caregivers;
f. Adolescents, preferably both in and out of school (if possible).

The research proposal should include proposed appropriate qualitative methods for each of the above groups, and propose a sample size for each method, taking into consideration gender aspects.

These respondent groups are chosen because of their role and influence on EVD prevention, preparedness and response. Therefore, establishing current levels of their knowledge, attitudes and practices as well as concerns and constraints with regards to EVD will be critical for determining/adjusting communication intervention strategies.

Geographical locations: The KAP study will be conducted in five locations, namely one selected district in each of the four provinces and Kigali City.

Key areas of inquiry: The institution is encouraged to use a conceptual framework such as the Social Ecological Model and/or any relevant Health Behaviour Theories, in the conceptualization of the study variables.

Conceptual Frame: Attached separately

4 Process and expected deliverables
The study will consist of the three phases:
Phase 1: Inception

In-depth desk review of available information, policies and legislation and similar studies, including those implemented in Rwanda and in countries with comparable context. A critical gender analysis of the above will be taken into consideration to guide the development of the research framework.
Following preliminary discussions with the Ministry of Health and UNICEF Rwanda, drafting of the inception report, including the details of the proposed methodology to be used, refined research hypothesis and questions, as well as an outline of the proposed tools for quantitative and qualitative data collection. These will be presented to and approved by the RBC and UNICEF upon consultations with the RC&CE Technical Working Group.

Ensuring approval of the Rwanda National Ethics Committee, as well as facilitate other approvals, as necessary with support from the Ministry of Health through RBC and UNICEF.

Submit regular progress reports throughout data collection period.

Phase 3: Analysis and reporting

Processing of data (data entry, cleaning and analysis) using the statistical data analysis package as discussed with RBC and UNICEF.

Following the desk review of the secondary data, data collection and analysis phase, the research team will make a presentation of the preliminary key findings to UNICEF and other stakeholders.

The Supplier will be required to comply with its warranty and other contractual obligations whether or not UNICEF or the Consignee carries out an inspection of the Goods.

Delivery not Acceptance; Consequences of Delayed Delivery and Non-conforming Goods

2.5 If the Supplier determines it will be unable to deliver all or some of the Goods to the Consignee by the delivery date stipulated in the Contract, the Supplier will (a) immediately notify UNICEF of the determination to withdraw from the Contract, (b) use its best efforts to ensure that the Goods are delivered to the Consignee by another Supplier on terms and conditions acceptable to UNICEF, (c) use the expected means of delivery, or at the Supplier’s cost unless the delay is due to force majeure as defined in Article 6.7 below), if reasonably requested by UNICEF to do so. 2.6 Delivery of the Goods will not constitute acceptance of the Goods. If some or all of the Goods do not conform to the requirements of the Contract or if the Supplier delivers the Goods late or fails to deliver the Goods (or any part of the Goods) in accordance with the agreed delivery dates and delivery terms and instructions, UNICEF may, without prejudice to any of its other rights and remedies, exercise one or more of the following rights under the Contract at UNICEF’s option:

2.9 Unless otherwise expressly provided in the Contract, title in and to the Goods will pass from the Supplier to the Consignee upon delivery of the Goods in accordance with the applicable delivery terms and acceptance of the Goods in accordance with the Contract.

3. Price; Invoicing; Tax Exemption; Payment Terms

3.1 The price for the Goods is the amount specified in the price section of the Contract (the "Price"), it being understood that such amount is specified in United States dollars unless otherwise expressly provided for in the price section of the Contract. The Price includes the cost of packaging and packing the Goods in accordance with the requirements of the Contract and delivery in accordance with the applicable delivery terms. The Price is inclusive of all costs, expenses, charges or fees that the Supplier may incur in connection with the performance of its obligations under the Contract; provided that, without prejudice to or limiting the provisions of Article 3.3 below, all duties and other taxes imposed by any authority or entity must be separately identified. It is understood and agreed that the Supplier will not request any change to the Price after delivery of the Goods by the Supplier and that the Price cannot be changed except by written agreement between the Parties before the Goods are delivered.

3.2 The Supplier will issue invoices to UNICEF only after the Supplier has fulfilled the delivery terms of the Contract. The Supplier will issue (a) one (1) invoice in respect of the payment being sought, in the currency specified in the Contract and in English, indicating the Contract identification number and the invoice number on the face of the Contract; and (b) copies of the shipping documents and other supporting documents as specified in the Contract.

3.3 The Supplier authorizes UNICEF to deduct from the Supplier's invoices any amount representing direct taxes (except charges for utilities services) and customs restrictions, duties and charges of a similar nature in respect of articles imported or exported for UNICEF's account, according to the exemptions from tax in Article 2, Section 7 of the Convention of the Privileges and Immunities of the United Nations, 1946. In the event any governmental authority refuses to recognize this exemption from taxes, restrictions, duties or charges, the Supplier agrees immediately to consult with UNICEF to determine a mutually acceptable procedure. The Supplier will provide full cooperation to UNICEF with regard to securing UNICEF's exemption from, or refund of amounts paid as, value-added taxes or taxes of a similar nature.

3.4 UNICEF will notify the Supplier of any dispute or discrepancy in the content or form of any invoice. With respect to disputes regarding only a portion of such invoice, UNICEF will pay the Supplier the amount of the undisputed portion in accordance with Article 3.5 below. UNICEF and the Supplier will consult in good faith to promptly resolve any dispute with respect to any invoice. Upon resolution of such dispute, any amounts that have not been charged in accordance with the Contract will be debited from the invoice(s) in which they appear and UNICEF will pay any agreed remaining terms in the invoice(s) in accordance with Article 3.5 within thirty (30) days after the final resolution of such dispute.

3.5 UNICEF will pay the uncontroverted amount of the Supplier's invoice within thirty (30) days of receiving both the invoice and the shipping documents and other supporting documents, as referred to in Article 3.2 above. The amount paid will reflect any discount(s) shown under the payment terms of the Contract. The Supplier will not be entitled to interest on any late payment or any sums payable under the Contract nor any accrued interest on payments withheld by UNICEF in connection with a dispute. Payment will not relieve the Supplier of its obligations under the Contract. Payment will not be deemed acceptance of the Goods or waiver of any rights with regard to the Goods.

3.6 Each invoice will confirm the Supplier's bank account details provided to UNICEF as part of the Supplier's registration process with UNICEF. All payments due to the Supplier under the Contract will be made by electronic transfers to the bank account. It is the Supplier's responsibility to ensure that the bank details supplied by it so UNICEF is up-to-date and accurate and notify UNICEF in writing by an authorized representative of the Supplier of any changes in bank details together with supporting documentation satisfactory to UNICEF.

3.7 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that UNICEF may withhold payment in respect of any invoice if, in UNICEF's opinion, the Supplier has not performed in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Contract, or if the Supplier has not provided sufficient documentation in support of the invoice.

3.8 UNICEF will have the right to set off against any amount or amounts due and payable by UNICEF to the Supplier under the Contract, any payment, indebtedness or other claim (including, without limitation, any overpayment made by UNICEF to the Supplier) owing by the Supplier to UNICEF under the Contract or under any other contract or agreement between the Parties. UNICEF will not be required to give the Supplier prior notice before exercising this right of set-off (notwithstanding being waived by the Supplier). UNICEF will promptly notify the Supplier after it has exercised such right of set-off, explaining the reasons for such set-off, provided however that the failure to give such notification will not affect the validity of such set-off.

3.9 Each of the invoices paid by UNICEF may be subject to a post-payment audit by UNICEF's external and internal auditors or by other authorized agents of UNICEF, at any time during the term of the Contract and for three (3) years after the Contract terminates. UNICEF will be entitled to refuse the Supplier of amounts paid in accordance with the Contract regardless of the reasons for such payments (including, but not limited to, the actions or omissions of UNICEF staff and other personnel).

4.4 If the Supplier is not the original manufacturer of the Goods or any part of the Goods, the Supplier assigns to UNICEF (or, at UNICEF's instructions, the Government or other entity that receives the Goods) all manufacturers' warranties in addition to any other warranties under the Contract.

4.5 The representations and warranties made by the Supplier in Articles 4.1 and 4.2 and the Supplier's obligations in Articles 4.3 and 4.4 above are made to and are for the benefit of (a) each entity that makes a direct financial contribution to the purchase of Goods; and (b) each Government or other entity that receives the Goods.
4.6 The Supplier will indemnify, hold and save harmless and defend, at its own expense, UNICEF, its officers, employees, consultants and agents, each entity that makes a direct financial contribution to the purchase of the Goods and each Government or other entity that receives the Goods, from and against all suits, claims, demands, losses and liability of any nature or kind, including their costs and expenses, by a third party and arising out of the acts or omissions of the Supplier or its Personnel or subcontractors in the performance of the Contract. This provision will extend to be not limited to (a) claims and liability in the nature of workers’ compensation; (b) product liability; and (c) any actions or claims pertaining to the alleged infringement of a patent, design, trade name or trademark arising in connection with the Goods or other liability arising out of the use of patented inventions or devices, copyrighted material or other intellectual property provided or licensed to UNICEF under the Contract or used by the Supplier, its Personnel or subcontractors in the performance of the Contract.

4.7 UNICEF will report any such suits, proceedings, claims, demands, losses or liability to the Supplier within a reasonable period of time after having received actual notice. The Supplier will have sole control of the defense, settlement and compromise of any such suit, proceeding, claim or demand except with respect to the assertion or defense of the privileges and immunities of UNICEF or any matter relating to UNICEF’s privileges and immunities (including matters relating to UNICEF’s relations with Host Governments), which will be between the Supplier and UNICEF, only UNICEF (or relevant governmental entities) will assert and maintain. UNICEF will have the right, at its own expense, to be represented in any such suit, proceeding, claim or demand by independent counsel of its own choosing.

Insurance

4.8 The Supplier will comply with the following insurance requirements: (a) The Supplier will maintain in effect with reputable insurers and in sufficient amounts, insurance against all of the Supplier’s risks under the Contract, including, but not limited to, the risk of claims arising out of or related to the Supplier’s performance of the Contract, including the following: (i) Insurance against all risks in respect of its property and any equipment used for the performance of the Contract; (ii) General liability insurance against all risks in respect of the Contract and claims arising out of the Contract including, but not limited to, product liability insurance, in an adequate amount to cover all claims arising from or in connection with the Supplier’s performance under the Contract. The Supplier’s product liability insurance will cover the direct and indirect financial consequences of liability (including all costs, including replacement costs, related to recall campaigns) sustained by UNICEF or third parties as a result of or relating to the Goods; (iii) All appropriate workers’ compensation and employer’s liability insurance, or its equivalent, with respect to its Personnel and subcontractors to cover claims for death, bodily injury or damage to property arising from the performance of the Contract; and (iv) Such other insurance as may be agreed upon in writing between UNICEF and the Supplier.

4.9 The Supplier will maintain the insurance coverage referred to in Article 4.8(a) above during the term of the Contract and for a period after the Contract terminates extending to the end of any applicable limitations period with regard to claims against which the insurance is obtained.

4.10 The Supplier will be responsible to fund all amounts within any policy deductible or retention.

4.11 Except with regard to the insurance referred to in paragraphs (a)(ii), (iii) above, the insurance policies for the Supplier’s insurance required under this Article 4.8 will (i) name UNICEF as an additional insured; (ii) include a waiver by the insurer of any subrogation rights against UNICEF; and (iii) provide that UNICEF will receive thirty (30) days’ written notice from the insurer prior to any cancellation or change of coverage.

4.12 The Supplier will, upon request, provide UNICEF with satisfactory evidence of the insurance required under this Article 4.8.

Compliance with the insurance requirements of the Contract will not limit the Supplier’s liability under the Contract or otherwise.

Liability

5.2 Confidential Information that is considered proprietary by either Party or that is disclosed or disclosed by one Party (“Discloser”) to the other Party (“Recipient”) during the course of performance of the Contract will be held in confidence by the Recipient. The Recipient will use the same care and discretion to avoid disclosure of the Discloser’s Confidential Information as the Recipient uses for its own Confidential Information and will use the Discloser’s Confidential Information solely for the purpose for which it was disclosed to the Recipient. The Recipient will not disclose the Discloser’s Confidential Information to any other party: (a) except to those of its Affiliates, employees, officials, representatives, agents and sub-contractors who have a need to know such Confidential Information for purposes of performing obligations under the Contract; or (b) unless the Confidential Information (i) is disclosed by the Recipient from a third party without restriction; (ii) is disclosed by the Discloser to a third party without any obligation of confidentiality; (iii) is known by the Recipient prior to disclosure by the Discloser; or (iv) at any time is developed by the Recipient independently of any disclosure under the Contract.

5.3 If the Supplier receives a request for disclosure of UNICEF’s Confidential Information pursuant to any judicial or law enforcement process, before any such disclosure is made the Supplier shall give UNICEF sufficient notice of such request in order to allow UNICEF to have a reasonable opportunity to secure the intervention of the relevant national Government to establish protective measures or take other action as it may be appropriate; and (b) will not disclose the relevant authority that requested such disclosure. UNICEF may disclose the Supplier’s Confidential Information to the extent required pursuant to resolutions or regulations of its governing bodies.

5.4 The Supplier may not communicate at any time to any other person, Government or authority external to UNICEF, any information known to it by reason of its association with UNICEF that has not been made public, except with the prior authorization of UNICEF, nor will the Supplier at any time use such information to private advantage.
ANNEX A GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

5.5 Upon the expiry or earlier termination of the Contract, the Supplier will:
(a) return to UNICEF all of UNICEF’s Confidential Information or, at UNICEF’s option, destroy all copies of such information held by the Supplier or its sub-contractors and confirm such destruction to UNICEF in writing; and
(b) will transfer to UNICEF all intellectual and other proprietary information in accordance with Article 5.1(a).

6. Termination; Force Majeure Termination by Either Party for Material Breach
6.1 If any Party is in material breach of any of its obligations under the Contract, the other Party can give written notice that within thirty (30) days of receiving such notice the breach must be remedied (if such breach is capable of remedy). If the breaching Party does not remedy the breach within the thirty (30) days’ period or if the breach is not capable of remedy, the non-breaching Party may terminate the Contract. The termination will be effective thirty (30) days after the non-breaching Party gives the breaching Party written notice of termination. The initiation of court or arbitration proceedings in accordance with Article 9 (Privileges and Immunities; Settlement of Disputes) below will not be grounds for termination of the Contract.

Additional Termination Rights of UNICEF
6.2 In addition to the termination rights under Article 6.1 above, UNICEF can terminate the Contract with immediate effect upon delivery of a written notice of termination, without any liability for termination changes or any other liability of any kind:
(a) in the circumstances described in, and in accordance with, Article 7 (Governmental Authority);
(b) if the Supplier breaches any of the provisions of Articles 5.2-5.4 (Confidentiality); or 6.3 In addition to the termination rights under Articles 6.1 and 6.2 above, UNICEF can terminate the Contract at any time by providing written notice to the Supplier in any case in which UNICEF’s mandate applicable to the performance of the Contract or UNICEF’s funding applicable to the Contract is curtailed or terminated, whether in whole or in part. UNICEF can also terminate the Contract upon sixty (60) days’ written notice to the Supplier without having to provide any justification.

6.4 As soon as it receives a notice of termination from UNICEF, the Supplier will immediately take steps to cease provision of the Goods in a prompt and orderly manner and to minimize costs and will seek instructions from UNICEF regarding Goods in transit (if any) and will not undertake any further or additional commitments as of and following the date it receives the termination notice. In addition, the Supplier will take any other action that may be necessary, or that UNICEF may direct in writing, for the minimization of losses and for the protection and preservation of any property (whether tangible or intangible) related to the Contract that is in the possession of the Supplier and in which UNICEF has or may be reasonably expected to acquire an interest.

6.5 If the Contract is terminated, no payment will be due from UNICEF to the Supplier except for Goods delivered in accordance with the requirements of the Contract and only if such Goods were ordered, requested or otherwise provided prior to the Supplier’s receipt of notice of termination from UNICEF or, in the case of termination by the Supplier, the effective date of such termination. The Supplier will have no claims for any further payment beyond payments in accordance with this Article 6.5, but will remain liable to UNICEF for all loss or damages which may be suffered by UNICEF by reason of the Supplier’s default (including but not limited to cost of the purchase and delivery of replacement or substitutive goods).

6.6 The termination rights in this Article 6 are in addition to all other rights and remedies of UNICEF under the Contract.

Force Majeure
6.7 If one Party is rendered permanently unable, wholly or in part, by reason of force majeure to perform its obligations under the Contract, the other Party may terminate the Contract on the same terms and conditions as are provided for in Article 6.1 above, except that the period of notice will be seven (7) days instead of thirty (30) days. “Force majeure” means any unforeseeable and irresistible events arising from causes beyond the control of the Parties, including acts of nature, any act of war (whether declared or not), invasion, revolution, insurrection, terrorism or other acts of a similar nature or force. “Force majeure” does not include (a) any event which is caused by the negligence or intentional action of a Party; (b) any event which a diligent Party could reasonably have been expected to take into account and plan for at the time the Contract was entered into; (c) the insufficiency of funds, inability to make any payment required under the Contract, or any economic conditions, including but not limited to inflation, price resolutions, or labor availability; or (d) any event resulting from harsh conditions or logistical challenges for the Supplier (including civil unrest) associated with locations at which UNICEF is operating or in which to operate or in withdrawing from, or any event resulting from UNICEF’s humanitarian, emergency, or similar operation responses.

7. Ethical Standards

7.3 The Supplier further represents and warrants that neither it nor any of its Affiliates, or Personnel or directors, is subject to any sanction or temporary suspension imposed by any United Nations System organization or other international inter-governmental organization. 1 Background

Since August 2018, the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC) has been facing a large-scale epidemic of Ebola Virus Disease (EVD) in the eastern provinces of North Kivu and Ituri, with importation to Goma and South Kivu provinces. Since the start of the outbreak in August 2018, there have been 3,303 EVD cases reported and 2,199 people have died (World Health Organization (WHO), 26 November 2019). Around 28 per cent of cases are children, a larger proportion than reported in previous outbreaks of Ebola. On 17 July 2019, WHO declared the Ebola outbreak in North Eastern DRC a Public Health Emergency of International Concern.

As one of the most densely populated countries in Africa, and with high-quality transport infrastructure, Rwanda is at high-risk of rapid spread of EVD. In 2018, the Government of Rwanda (GoR) developed an Ebola preparedness plan and activated mechanisms to minimize the risk of importation. In partnership with UNICEF, the World Health Organization, the Ministry of Health’s Rwanda Biomedical Center conducted a rapid Knowledge, Attitudes and Practices (KAP) assessment to gauge the level of public awareness about Ebola Virus Disease, as well as the prevailing attitudes and practices related to the disease. The interventions under the Risk Communication and Community Engagement (RC&CE) pillar of the National Contingency Plan have been largely informed by the results of this study.

Although Rwanda remains free of Ebola, it is still at risk of cross-border spread as the country borders with DRC, Uganda, Burundi and Tanzania. The protracted emergency preparedness effort requires up-to-date understanding of the prevailing levels of knowledge, perceptions of risk, attitudes and practices among parents, caregivers, health workers, teachers, ECD caregivers, children and key influencers (including community and religious leaders) with regards to EVD.

2 Rationale and Justification

The proposed KAP study will assess knowledge, attitudes and practices in relation to preventing EVD and allow for better understanding of its barriers and drivers, building on an earlier rapid assessment (2018). The findings of this study will inform/help to evaluate the progress since the rapid KAP and identify where Rwanda needs to adjust the RC&CE interventions of the National Contingency Plan going forward.

Designing and conducting the KAP study requires a highly qualified institutional consultancy. Therefore, UNICEF plans to contract an experienced and competent research institution to undertake this exercise.

3 Purpose, objectives and expected results

The overall goal of this KAP study is to assess knowledge, attitudes and practices in relation to preventing EVD and to better understand corresponding health-related behaviours; and drivers and barriers for risk communication. Important gender dimensions and social norms will be considered during this exercise.

The specific objectives of the study are to:

- Establish current levels of knowledge, perceptions of risk, attitudes and practices among parents and caregivers (persons from different backgrounds who might include cross border traders, students, drivers of the public transport, security bodies, immigration and airport staff among others), health workers, teachers, ECD caregivers, adolescents and key influencers (including community and religious leaders) on EVD;

- Establish whether people know other consequences of Ebola apart from death, such as: the importance of safe burials, separation and isolation of the infected and affected through contact and importance of contact tracing;

- Identify current myths, beliefs about EVD as well as barriers and drivers of communication;

- Identify cultural and social norms and traditions, in particular gender-related, influencing or impacting health-seeking behaviours as well as family and community resilience mechanisms to prevent an EVD outbreak;

- Identify potential discriminatory attitudes towards those with EVD among parents, caregivers, service providers and key influencers;

- Identify underlying causes for potential discriminatory attitudes;

- Conduct a communication analysis in the context of disease outbreaks to establish: target audiences, current behaviours, barriers to achieving desired behaviours, behavioural objectives, behaviour change mass, interpersonal, group communication and information preferences (channels, approaches, media, interventions etc.);

- Identify credible sources of information for participant groups;

- Identify what is considered as the other significant source of information (second opinion) that facilitates respondents to make decisions;

- Identify economic and social power dynamics in communities and decision-making processes in families and communities related to disease outbreaks and EVD in particular;

- Identify possible entry points for communication including ideas for adjusting EVD-related messaging;

- Identify approaches and authentic/credible sources of information for various participant/respondent groups

- Assess health workers, including community health workers (CHWs) knowledge and practice in communicating key messages on EVD to families, parents and caregivers;

- Assess community and religious leaders’ knowledge and attitudes about EVD and how to prevent EVD and their engagement and influence in EVD prevention and preparedness behaviours;

- Identify most effective communication channels that have been used so far;

- Identify the ways rumours around EVD emerge and get disseminated.

Key elements of the study:

The output of the study is a comprehensive report, including the following elements:

1. Desk (literature) review (with a gender analysis component) of existing policy and programme documents as well as available research documents and EVD KAP studies conducted in Rwanda and in countries with comparable context.
2. Data collection and analysis with a gender lens:

a. Refine the research methodology based on consultations with the Ministry of Health and UNICEF and other relevant stakeholders as advised by UNICEF;

b. Prepare an inception report including research questions and draft research instruments;

c. Prepare, translate into Kinyarwanda (and possibly French) and pre-test the research instruments;

d. Conduct training of enumerators and data collectors;

e. Conduct field research as per proposed and agreed methodology and timeline;

f. Data-cleaning and analysis of the collected data;

g. Prepare draft KAP study report and accompanying presentation in PowerPoint with preliminary findings and share with UNICEF to facilitate the review and feedback by all relevant stakeholders. The report should include recommendations on adjusting the communication approaches/messages based on the findings;

h. Finalize full KAP study report based on feedback from all relevant stakeholders and share the final version and accompanying presentation in PowerPoint with UNICEF;

i. Provide data-sets.

Methodology and data sources:

The study methodology consists of:

1. Review of the secondary data, which will be derived from the desk review of existing policy and programme documents, as well as existing quantitative and qualitative data (the package of relevant documents will be provided at the inception stage) to both inform the study design and provide additional contextual analysis.

2. Generation of primary data using a mix of quantitative (household core survey) and qualitative methods. The selected institution is expected to propose a detailed methodology for both components of the study.

Household survey

The caregiver survey is intended to provide quantitative measures of caregiver’s knowledge, risk perception, attitudes and practices and will serve as a basis for analysis of changes over time as well as geographic differences across and within the provinces. The sample size should be maximum 1,000 households. The survey should be concise and take no longer than 15 minutes to administer.

In addition to background characteristics of the main respondent, including disability status, the questionnaire should also include the listing of all members and their characteristics (age, sex, marital status, disability status and educational attainment).

Important is to determine caregivers’ mass-media consumption, preferred sources of information on EVD preparedness, prevention and control. Eligible respondents will include parents of children 0-18 years old (50 per cent mothers and 50 per cent fathers).
Qualitative methods

The qualitative methods should target the following respondents:

a. Parents/caregivers
b. Community health workers;
c. Community and religious leaders;
d. Teachers;
e. ECD caregivers;
f. Adolescents, preferably both in and out of school (if possible).

The research proposal should include proposed appropriate qualitative methods for each of the above groups, and propose a sample size for each method, taking into consideration gender aspects.

These respondent groups are chosen because of their role and influence on EVD prevention, preparedness and response. Therefore, establishing current levels of their knowledge, attitudes and practices as well as concerns and constraints with regards to EVD will be critical for determining/adjusting communication intervention strategies.

Geographical locations: The KAP study will be conducted in five locations, namely one selected district in each of the four provinces and Kigali City.

Key areas of inquiry: The institution is encouraged to use a conceptual framework such as the Social Ecological Model and/or any relevant Health Behaviour Theories, in the conceptualization of the study variables.

Important components of data collection are: gender responsive, continuous monitoring, corrective measures, quality assurance and cross-checking the validity and reliability of the collected information. Submit regular progress reports throughout data collection period.

Phase 3: Analysis and reporting

- Processing of data (data entry, cleaning and analysis) using the statistical data analysis package as discussed with RBC and UNICEF.
- Following the desk review of the secondary data, data collection and analysis phase, the research team will make a presentation of the preliminary key findings to UNICEF and other stakeholders.
- Submitting a detailed draft technical report to UNICEF, to be shared with key partners for review, and once all feedback has been addressed, the consultancy institution to share the final study report for review and validation.
