SITUATION ANALYSIS

- Throughout the year, overall vulnerabilities continued to deepen, disproportionately affecting children. Child recruitment is a particular concern, with 18 per cent of 300 verified cases (of which 289 are boys) involving children under the age of 15, many of whom are reported to have engaged in active combat roles.

- Syria has seen the proportion of the population living in extreme poverty (less than US$2 per day) double from almost 34 per cent pre-crisis to approximately 69 per cent today.

RECENT HIGHLIGHTS

- In 2017, a total of 476,000 young girls and boys (10-24 years) have benefited from a holistic package of multi-sectoral services and opportunities provided by UNICEF in 12 governorates. Of these 59,000 children lived in HTR and besieged locations.

- UNICEF continued to expand the implementation of the social protection programme; where 5,800 children with complex disabilities were reached with regular cash transfers and case management support in Aleppo and Lattakia. This brings the total reach of vulnerable families with cash transfers to over 6,100 in 2017.
